

The Federal Communications Commission

Dear The Federal Communications Commission,

I do not want to pay more for my telephone service! I urge you to reject a flat fee proposal that would change how contributions are made to the Universal Service Fund. I am concerned that this proposal could make my current service unaffordable.

Under the flat fee proposal you are considering, people who make few long distance calls, which includes me, would pay the same as people or businesses that make many calls. In other words, low-volume and primarily residential customers would bear the same universal service fund burden as a high-volume residential or business customers. Why should I pay when I don't make long distance call? I don't place these calls because I don't make afford them. My family who live out of state must call me.

I use my wireless phone for safety, security and convenience. I don't want to lose these benefits so that big businesses can pay less than their fair share. I urge you to reject the proposal to move the USF collection system to a flat-fee.

Are you going to supplement my income for this increase. I believe not.

Keep the USF Fair! Remember not everyone makes 6 figure a year. Consider the disable and elderly that are on fixed income.

Sincerely,

Maria Renzulli
